

Marquis Marconi Inventor of Wireless Telegraphy Dies Suddenly

END COMES TO ETHER CONQUERER IN ROME, ITALY

As Late As Saturday Conferred With Pope on Radio Station

DESPITE FEELING ILL WORKED MONDAY

Mussolini Sends Condolences and Later Visits Home

By ANDRUE S. BERDING
ROME, July 20.—(P)—The Marquis Guglielmo Marconi, who invented wireless telegraphy when he was only 21 years old, died suddenly at 2:45 a. m. today (8:45 p. m. Monday CST) at the ancient palace in downtown Rome where he lived and worked.

The 69-year-old conqueror of the ether died quietly of heart paralysis. His widow, the Countess Cristina Bezz-Scala, was at his bedside. She had been called back from the seaside resort of Viareggio when he began to feel ill yesterday afternoon.

Their daughter, Electra Elena, whose godmother is Queen Elena of Italy, remained at the resort and will not return to Rome until time for the state funeral. Today is her eighth birthday.

Premier Mussolini, whose ardent supporter Marconi had been, was notified of the death immediately. He dispatched a telegram of condolences and later went to Marconi's home in the Via Condotti and paid his respects beside the body.

Il Duce approached the bed, which was lighted at the four corners by tall candles. He paused, then bent and kissed the dead man on the forehead.

Blessing From Pope
Pope Pius XI, with whom the inventor had a long audience Saturday concerning the new radio station he was building for the Vatican, was notified by telephone at his summer residence at Castel Gandolfo. He sent a special blessing to the inventor.

Marconi had been closely associated with the pontiff. The first radio station at the Vatican was installed by him and when it was inaugurated in 1921 it was Marconi who introduced Pius, the first pope ever to speak over the radio.

Despite his feeling of ill health yesterday afternoon Marconi insisted on working on his latest microwave experiments. The Marquis Luigi Solari, head of the Italian Marconi company, the inventor's biographer and lifelong friend, said that late yesterday afternoon Marconi came into his office "to talk about his microwave experiments."

The Marconi company offices are in the inventor's home and today the employees learned of his death as they arrived for work. They stood together in little groups in the corridors whispering gravely among themselves. Many of them were weeping openly.

"Marconi told me he planned to spend the whole summer aboard his yacht Electra conducting experiments," Solari said. "His idea was to adapt the microwave to long range transmission."

"Marconi was very hopeful of the success of these experiments and they are in such shape and have reached such a point we can go ahead with his work."

Solari said that "Marconi had a great affection for the United States. Next to his own country he had a greater love for America than any other country."

Body To Lie In State
Marconi's body will be removed to historic Farnesina palace, headquarters of which he was president, on the banks of the Tiber this afternoon to lie in state in the blue robes of an academician.

Following a preliminary funeral service in Rome, the body will be taken for burial to Bologna where he conducted his first experiments

RIOT SLAYINGS HELD "JUSTIFIABLE"

By The Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 20.—A coroner's jury returned a verdict of a justifiable homicide today in reporting on the deaths of 10 persons slain in the Memorial Day steel strike riot in South Chicago.

The jury, comprising six unemployed members of the American Legion, deliberated slightly less than an hour. Presentation of evidence required six days.

In each of the 10 fatalities the jurors found the "deceased came to his death from bullet wounds inflicted by an unknown police officer."

AMERICAN FLIER IN JAIL IN SPAIN PONDERS FUTURE

Harold Dahl, Champaign, Ill., Captured By The Insurgents

By EDWARD J. NEIL
SALAMANCA, Spain, July 20.—Self-cast as a "man without a country," Harold Dahl, 28, of Champaign, Ill., and Madrid, Spain, sat in a white-washed insurgent jail today, running nervous fingers through his thinning blonde hair and pondering the fortunes of aerial warfare that landed him there.

Specifically he was concerned by these problems of the future: Would he ever see his wife again? He was married only six months ago.

Would he ever see Champaign again? He was convinced that under the United States neutrality law he had lost his citizenship.

Would he be taken before an insurgent firing squad some sunny morning and shot as a mercenary enemy of the Spanish insurgents? There is a faint chance he will be.

Or, would he be traded with the Spanish government forces for an insurgent prisoner? He said he was sure he would be shot if he goes back to Madrid.

Mrs. Dahl, meanwhile, is living at Cannes, France, where she is supposed to be getting $1,500 weekly salary which Dahl said the Spanish government promised for his services in the air force.

Is Visited In Cell
This writer visited the disconsolate Dahl in his cell—the first American he had talked with in some time. He conversed freely on his service with the Madrid forces—a brief record abruptly terminated in a gust of machine gun fire that ripped the fabric off the wings

EXCEPTIONS FILED IN DAMAGES FIXED

Exceptions to the findings of three commissioners appointed by the circuit court to assess damages in condemnation proceedings to secure the right of way for a highway south on Marshall avenue and to the southeast part of the county, were filed in the circuit court today by three plaintiffs. They ask that the matter be submitted to a jury in the circuit court for a hearing.

L. E. and Rose Bangh, who were allowed $10 by the commissioners ask for $200; Mabel E. Richardson, allowed $125 asks for $600, and Raymond E. Richardson, who has a crop on the above mentioned land asks for $150 damages if the right of way is claimed before his crop is removed.

W. W. Blain is attorney for the plaintiffs.

The commissioners who inspected the property and reported their findings were J. E. Longan, C. C. Gentry and Ed Bennett.

FARMER, WIFE AND DAUGHTER SLAIN

By The Associated Press.
CARTHAGE, Tex., July 20.—A farmer, his wife and their daughter were shot to death in a triple slaying near here today. The dead were J. J. Willis, 78; his wife, Ethel, 33, and a 12-year-old daughter.

Officers were investigating the theory that the wife and daughter were slain first and that Willis met death with the same weapon.

Justice of the Peace J. L. Barton rendered a verdict of murder and suicide.

Barton held that Willis killed his wife and his daughter and then himself.

SHOWDOWN ON COURT REFORM ISSUE DELAYED

Possibly New Compromise Measure Be Offered Senate

LEADERSHIP NEARER TO A SELECTION

Strength Appears Closely Divided For Harrison or Barkley

By The Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 20.—An administration spokesman said today that a new compromise court bill possibly would be offered to win the support of opponents of the measure now before the senate.

This official, who would not be quoted by name said there was very decided belief all around that the bitter contest over court reorganization in the senate would "work out surprisingly satisfactory to all concerned."

He expressed these opinions after Vice President Garner had spent more than an hour at the White House with President Roosevelt.

Meanwhile on Capitol Hill senate court bill opponents abandoned their plan for an immediate showdown on the court bill.

After an hour's conference with a score of leaders of the opposition Senator Wheeler (D., Mont.), announced it had been decided that when the bill comes up in the senate again "we are going to continue to discuss the measure."

The developments at the White House and the capitol came almost simultaneously when administration and opposition leaders began to get back to work after their journey to the funeral of the late Majority Leader Robinson in Arkansas. They returned here last night.

Yesterday some of the opposition leaders had said there was strong likelihood that they would move, when the senate convened today, to send the court bill back to the judiciary committee.

Administration chieftains, however, determined to oppose any showdown until the senate Democrats have chosen a new leader to succeed Robinson.

Await Choosing Leader
Strength in the leadership contest was almost equally split between Senators Harrison (D., Miss.) and Barkley (D., Ky.). A caucus of party members in the senate is scheduled for tomorrow morning. The question of leadership may be settled at that time.

INJURY FATAL TO MRS. MARTIN

Mrs. Nettie May Martin, wife of Francis Holman Martin, of 520 West Fourth street, died at the Missouri Pacific hospital, St. Louis, at 12:30 o'clock this morning.

Mrs. Martin went to Kirkwood Sunday, July 11, to visit her daughter, Mrs. Leslie Taylor, formerly Miss Sue Martin. Wednesday Mrs. Martin and her daughter were making jelly and some paraffin caught fire, causing a small blaze. In the excitement in extinguishing it Mrs. Martin fell, burst a blood vessel, and never regained consciousness.

Her son, Ernest C. Martin, Sedalia alderman, went to St. Louis and was with her for a few days, but had returned here before her death.

Mrs. Martin was born in Ohio, August 8, 1867, a daughter of Adam M. and Mary E. Keyser, who both died of pneumonia December 5, 1891, just forty minutes apart.

She was married in Pettis county to Mr. Martin October 17, 1898, and they resided in Otterville until thirteen years ago when the family moved to Sedalia.

Surviving are her husband, one daughter, Mrs. Taylor, of Kirkwood, two sons, William Elwood Martin, U. S. N., stationed on the Indianapolis, near Portland, Ore., and Ernest C. Martin, Sedalia, also three grand children, Norma L. Martin, Gloria Jean Martin and Betty Sue Martin, all of Sedalia.

The body will arrive in Sedalia at 5:05 o'clock this evening and will be taken to Gillespie's Funeral Home.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed. Interment will be in Otterville.

William Elwood Martin, who is in the navy, arrived in St. Louis at 8 o'clock this morning, a few hours after his mother had passed away.

DAMAGE SUIT IS TRANSFERRED TO FEDERAL COURT

The $48,000 damage suit filed in the circuit court of this county by J. B. Shane against the Missouri Pacific Transportation Company, a corporation, has been transferred to the United States Federal court, Western District of Missouri, on application of attorneys for the defendant company.

William Elwood Martin, who is in the navy, arrived in St. Louis at 8 o'clock this morning, a few hours after his mother had passed away.

It has been announced by "Tex" Roberts, president of the state group.

Endorsement of Sullivan came from the executive committee of the state group, following action at the Excelsior Springs convention Saturday, Roberts said.

Sullivan is one of three endorsed for the appointment by the Federation of Labor several weeks ago, and is a prominently mentioned candidate in numbers of political circles. He is employed in the composing room of the Sedalia Capital, and is secretary of the Sedalia chapter of the International Typographical Union. He has served for several years as a member of the Pettis county democratic central committee is active in the Young Democrats organization, and served as chairman of the Pettis County Old Age Assistance commission.

PROCEEDS FROM BALL GAME GO TO RELIEF FUND

All Proceeds Above Actual Expenses For Aid To Collins Family

A benefit baseball game with the proceeds above bare expenses to be turned over to the Collins' family relief fund will be played Thursday night at Liberty Park with the Sedalia Athletics and the Jefferson City Tweddies as the rival teams. Arrangements for the affair were completed today by the sponsors, the local police and fire departments and the management of the Athletics, who hope to add a sizeable sum to the fund being raised for the family of William J. Collins who was fatally burned recently in the pursuit of his duties as a city fireman.

Admission will be twenty-five cents and tickets have been placed on sale at Joe Chasnoff's, Smoke House, Hughes', Y and L Drug store and Pacific Cafe.

The only expense to be incurred by the game will be the small guarantee necessary to bring the Jefferson City team here as the Athletics already have contracted for the use of the Liberty Park floodlights and will assume that expense themselves.

The game promises to attract a large turnout, not only because it will be a benefit affair, but because of the attractiveness of the contest itself. The A's own a 1 to 10 betting victory over the Tweddies and the return engagement shapes up as a real battle.

Cooperating with the sponsors, the Sedalia bus company will provide free transportation from Third and Ohio to the park.

ORDER IS MADE TO PAY A DIVIDEND

Special Deputy Commissioner of Finance, W. W. Johnston, announces that on July 15th, petition was filed and Judge Leslie A. Bruce, Special Judge of the Circuit Court in charge of the liquidation of Brinkerhoff-Paris Trust & Savings Company, at Clinton, made an order authorizing C. H. Moberly, Commissioner of Finance of the State of Missouri, to pay a fourth dividend to the creditors and depositors of the Brinkerhoff-Paris Trust and Savings Company of 10 per cent of the amount of their claims.

CONTRIBUTIONS STILL COME IN FOR COLLINS RELIEF FUND

Contributions to the fund for Mrs. Blanche Collins and her five children, whose husband and father died of burns received while in the performance of his duties as a city fireman, continue to be received. There are still many however, whose sympathy goes out to the bereaved family, and who want to add to this fund, but have failed to do so.

The movement was begun to compensate the family for its loss because there is no provision in the Missouri statutes for a city to pay for the death of a fireman or police officer, who loses his life in the performance of his duty. The fund has grown daily, but it is hoped it will reach a much larger sum and that every citizen of Sedalia will have a part in this worthy movement.

Contributions may be left at Police headquarters, Third National Bank, Sedalia Bank and Trust Company, Union Savings Bank, East End Drug Store, Boies Drug Store, Sedalia Democrat and Capital office.

TRAFFIC IN AUGUST THROUGH UNDERPASS

Traffic over Highway 50 through the underpass on Broadway at the Missouri-Kansas-Texas and the Missouri Pacific railroad tracks is expected to be moving shortly before August 21, the opening day of the Missouri State Fair. The completion of the underpass will not be until the early part of September, it providing on weather conditions.

With the exception of the laying of the slab and a twenty-foot street, all concrete work is about completed, the viaduct for the railroad tracks being finished with two lines of the Katy being laid while work in putting the one Missouri Pacific track for the Warsaw Branch will be started this week.

There is less than 500 yards of rough grading to be done and this is expected to be finished late today after which work in preparing the roadway for the pouring of the concrete slab will be started. Providing the weather conditions permit the concrete work will start within the next two weeks.

The supervision is in charge of Flood Drymon of the State Highway Department, with F. J. Lynch and G. L. Stone, inspectors from the highway department.

Edgar Barnett is superintendent of the work for the Davis Construction Co., builders of the underpass.

Japanese Seize The Waterfront at City of Tangku

By The Associated Press.
TIENTSIN, July 20.—The Japanese army seized control today of the entire waterfront at Tangku, including wharves, Chinese custom offices and foreign shipping companies in preparation for the expected arrival of 35,000 troops from Japan.

Tangku is the port for Tientsin, connected by rail and water with this city in the center of the North China conflict.

Reports of the imminent arrival of Japanese reinforcements indicated four troop transports were expected Thursday.

The Kailan wharf was not immediately affected and the British warship Grimsby, which arrived this afternoon, moored alongside it.

Heavily loaded trains were expected at Tientsin after midnight, further increasing Japanese concentrations here. Extensive new Japanese troop movements by railroad were reported.

Alarmed Chinese streamed from Tientsin into the foreign concessions with the first reports of today's new fighting near Peiping.

MEETING TONIGHT OF FISHERMEN BE HELD AT ELDON

Discussions Be Held on Steps For Better Fishing Advantages

This evening at Eldon, Mo., a highly important meeting of fishermen will be held which every sportsman enjoying fishing should avail themselves of attending. It is sponsored by the Lake of the Ozarks Association, the fish committee and board of directors.

An all-lake fish rodeo is contemplated in October and this will be one of the important matters to come before the meeting to be at the Eldon junior high school at 7:30 o'clock.

As many Sedalia and Pettis county fishermen who can possibly arrange their plans to attend, should do so as this gathering will have probably also for its purpose an increase in the propagation of fish as well as protection against illegal methods of catching them either for personal use, or for marketing.

Discussion is likely on the steps necessary for additional hatcheries at convenient and suitable spots at the Lake of the Ozarks which has become the mecca for more fishermen in season than perhaps all other resorts in the entire state.

It is especially urged fishermen from Sedalia and other points contiguous to the lake, or within motoring distance in a brief time, will avail themselves of an opportunity to be present and express themselves as to means to accomplish aims that will mean better fishing, and also curb unscrupulous ones not complying with the laws relative to catching certain varieties of fish out of season, trapping or use of devices that are not permissible in good sportsmanship if such matters come before the meeting.

DEATH PENALTY FOR KENYON BE ASKED AT TRIAL

Alleged Killer of Dr. J. C. B. Davis To Alton Under Heavy Guard

START IS MADE IN SELECTION OF JURY

All Prospective Members Questioned on Capital Punishment Ideas

By The Associated Press.
ALTON, Mo., July 20.—The selection of jurors for the trial of Robert Kenyon, 23 year old alleged slayer of Dr. J. C. B. Davis, 67 year old Willow Springs physician started before Circuit Judge W. E. Barton here today. Judge Barton asked that an additional 10 men be added to the special venire of 25.

Kenyon was brought here under heavy guard from West Plains where he has been held for safe keeping. He has worn overalls since his arrest for the kidney slaying but appeared in the crowded courtroom today clad in a new white shirt and new trousers. He appeared unmoved by the ordeal but listened intently as the jury was being paneled.

All prospective jurors were being questioned on their ideas concerning capital punishment by Prosecuting Attorney William Roberts.

Attorneys for the defense indicated yesterday Judge W. E. Barton of Houston, who has been called to preside at the trial would be asked to grant more time.

Prosecuting Attorney William Roberts, it was understood, opposed further delay in handling the case.

AID FOR FIRST OFFENDERS

Few situations can be more disheartening than that of the youth who emerges from his first encounter with the law to confront a hostile—or even a merely apathetic—world. He is an easy prey to embitterment and degrading associations.

Without condoning criminal behavior or overlooking the individual's responsibility for his conduct, it is pertinent, asserts the Post-Dispatch of St. Louis, to recall the authoritative voices that have been lifted in accusation against society for its failure to correct environmental hotbeds of delinquency. Former President Hoover, addressing leaders of boys' clubs, spoke of the 3,000,000 lads living in congested districts "barred from normal expenditure of energy and curiosity in competition with nature," where "the pack turns to the gang." Henry W. Anderson, a member of the Wickersham Commission, asserted that "the major responsibility for crime is a social, as distinguished from an individual, responsibility." And Judge Charles W. Hoffman of the juvenile court of Cincinnati, addressing the Conference on Crime called by Attorney General Cummings in 1934, stated that "statistics reveal that the great majority of delinquent children come from socio-economically poor districts."

In the strategic moment when a youthful first offender stands on the threshold of re-entrance to community life, sobered by his experience, lies a priceless opportunity for a society which is still far from ideal to make up for its deficiencies. In St. Louis, fortunately, such a friendly hand is extended. A group of about 70 men, including physicians, business men and lawyers, with Protestant, Jewish and Catholic support, has thus aided some 250 youths in the past 18 months. Recent radio addresses have explained how the agency, calling upon these young men to exercise their own strength and ingenuity, supplements their efforts. Certainly the "Love Thy Neighbor as Thyself" Association merits its name and should have the steadfast encouragement for which the speakers appealed.

ABOLISH TRAFFIC HAZARD

New York City made a memorable event of running the last train on its West Side "Death Avenue," where, until a few days ago, trains had operated down the center of a thickly populated tenement street.

From Forty-second street to Sixty-first street, "Death Avenue" crossed city thoroughfares, presenting a constant threat to motor traffic and pedestrians, in spite of a corps of watchmen. Lately, the railroad operations had been limited to freight trains, but that did not greatly lessen the threat to life and property, not to mention the inconvenience of having engines and cars rumbling up and down the street day and night. Even in a tenement, that can be aggravating.

Trains now had been switched onto a new open-cut right-of-way that eliminates crossing hazards, minimizes dust and noise, and permits the railroad itself to operate on a faster, more efficient schedule.

New York, of course, is to be congratulated. But more important, says the Leader and Press of Springfield, it deserves to be emulated. For there are a hundred and one big and little communities scattered over the nation with similar dangerous mixtures of street and through railway traffic.

Improvement is possible, however, through steady hammering at the points of least resistance. It was 80 years before New York got the trains off "Death Avenue." But any father or mother along that avenue will tell you it was worth the effort. And as long as life and property are at stake, it will be worth any community's trouble to begin weeding out the dangerous holdovers from a generation when "speed" was not considered so important.

Meanwhile, until this bigger program is made effective, the individual motorist still has his obligation to "Stop, Look and Listen." It is a hackneyed warning, but its merit in its own field lies.

BUILDING GAINS

From Hannibal Courier-Post.

Those who have viewed with some apprehension the lagging of construction behind industry were cheered by the reports a few days ago that June showed a 37 per cent gain over the same month of last year. The F. W. Dodge report for 37 states east of the Rocky mountains estimated a building total for June of $318,137,100. This is 30 per cent better than May. Residential construction amounted to only $93,123,100 while the non-residential figure rose to $125,987,000, the balance of $99,927,000 going into civil engineering projects.

The June residential figure compares with $86,937,000 for May and $73,604,600 in June a year ago. Increases were well distributed with every major area sharing in the advance except metropolitan New York, Eastern Missouri, Arkansas, Southern Illinois and Western Tennessee.

There still is an admitted lag of building and especially of homes. Marriner Eccles, chairman of the federal reserve, recently placed the residential shortage at 700,000 units. He attributed the lag to rapidly rising costs of labor and materials.

However increase like that for June will prove reassuring. If kept up in anything like that ratio it will prove a valuable business stimulus.

HARMFUL GOSSIP

As we look back upon the friends and comrades of the past—those who have meant the most to us and whose influence has been the finest and most enduring—we realize that those that stand out unquestionably above all others are those who have interfered with us the least. No one likes interference in any form even though on occasion it may be based upon kind intentions and a desire to be of service. Most persons, however, prefer to live their own lives in their own way—that is, to work out for themselves their own problems and thus to discover the solutions most helpful to them. Some of them however seem to think that their way of doing things is so superior to any other way that they jump to the conclusion that others would profit by their knowledge and immediately insist upon passing along the sum of their experiences. These would-be helpers, however, forget that just as they worked out their particular problems so, too, others prefer to find their own solutions.

They forget also that many solutions that produce the best of results in one case may not apply in other cases and that, therefore, those who are most interested might be left alone with advantage to themselves to arrive at and to apply their own conclusions.

The danger of trying to "point the way" to others is that the effort soon develops unexpected phases of the original problem that present embarrassments and difficulties difficult to overcome. Though couched in the vernacular of the street the plain unvarnished phrase, "Mind your own business" is perhaps the most understandable advice that might be given to many persons who insist on precipitating their advice upon others. The right to manage one's own affairs, unless one be declared an incompetent, belongs to all, and all should be given the chance to put it into practice.

In like manner why should one's private affairs be so often on the tongue of persons whom they do not concern? One often hears, and for that matter often joins in, criticism and gossip about others that would be better left unsaid. Given the opportunity there are certain men and women, probably the majority, who like nothing better than retailing a spicy bit of news that may or may not reflect credit upon those criticized. "Did you hear so and so?" is often the opening remark that lets loose a torrent of abuse or ridicule upon one who is not present to defend himself. The facts of the case in question are very correctly not available to all but that makes no difference to the silly gossippers who do not mind filling in the missing links to their own satisfaction. Do such gossippers ever stop to think of the mischief, the downright injury that is so often committed by them? Unbridled tongues can do a world of harm, some of which is impossible to repair, but that fact apparently does not mean anything to those who seem to depend upon gossip for food and drink.

Glorious and comfortable nights have been experienced in Missouri this July which to Sedalians, Pettis countians and all others is deep satisfaction and conducive to restful slumber. A year ago temperatures were sizzling hot throughout the day and it was far into the night before one could drop off to sleep and secure required rest.

Love is for Tomorrow

By VIRGINIA SCALLON

RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

READ THIS FIRST:
Sandy Knight, in the temporary role of radio announcer of a children's hour program, has been misled by the fact that a lady named Madden, disgusted and humiliated, he jumps into his car and leaves town.
NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY:

CHAPTER 2

SANDY'S battered gray roadster was on the ramp of the garage, and he slipped it into gear viciously, then zoomed out onto the street.

He pulled well down over his eyes, he followed picturesque Wilshire boulevard over the bridge and out the wide sweep toward the beach where he was quartered for the summer months. "A few clothes, and I'm getting out of this town," he thought to himself while he zig-zagged his way through the Saturday night traffic. As he neared the intersection of Wilshire and Western, the Forty-second street of Los Angeles, he caught the blatant cries of the newsboys.

"Read all about the big radio hoax," they screamed shrilly. "Announcer skips town. Read it here!"

"That's just the beginning," thought Sandy bitterly, and accurately he foresaw the newspaper features which were classics of journalism. They were to call him the "Good Samaritan of the Air," the credulous announcer, and soon even less flattering names. Considering the hubbub and confusion created, the reaction was normal.

He stopped just long enough in Santa Monica to pack a Gladstone bag with necessities, then headed his car south. He wanted to get the taste of his last experience out of his mouth in the fortnight that remained before it was time to open the new Los Angeles offices of Sullivan & Knight, Inc. Officially, he was a partner in this advertising agency which had its headquarters in San Francisco.

As he sped along the winding coast highway with the cool ocean air refreshing him, he thought back over the events since June 1st when he and Tim Sullivan had decided to expand their profitable little business. He had wound up his affairs in San Francisco within the month, and said a regretful farewell to the picturesque metropolitan city of the Golden Gate. With the usual misgiving of a northerner moving into the blaring, hustling southern city, he had "felt" his way around for a few days but experienced no difficulty in locating a suitable office in the heart of the printing district.

Sandy had signed his name to the lease with some misgiving, realizing that he was committing himself to a job of pioneering in a highly competitive field where he had few friends. The office would not be available for another month, and Sandy faced empty weeks of boredom until Aug. 1. Hence it was a welcome relief when a casual acquaintance, Mike Borst, made an astounding suggestion over a whiskey and soda in one of Los Angeles' shining cocktail bars.

"I've got to take a radio show on a two weeks' tour," Borst complained. "Another bunch of squawking amateurs. The devil of it is I can't afford to give up a job I've got over at KROX, and I can't afford to walk out on my girls. Not bad looking, either, if they didn't sound so awful. Another drink?"

Drowning his grievances in a deliberate and painstaking manner, Borst suddenly barked his fist on the bar. His eyes brightened and he talked fast. "I've got it. Look, why don't you take over the radio job for me for those two weeks? You've got nothing to do, and nothing to lose. Besides that, it'll help you get your bearings around town and the practical experience of announcing on the program won't hurt you. 'S a matter of fact, I should charge you for the training. It's invaluable, man. Invaluable!"

Sandy was amazed that Borst would trust his job to a man he had met but casually at the Ad club, but the crazy plan appealed to him. Two weeks would pass quickly, he'd reasoned, and he might as well be working as wasting the time until he could take possession of his new office.

"I'll do it," he said suddenly, so vigorously that Mike spilled half his drink on his crimson tie.

"Good boy," he mumbled and slumped down, seeming suddenly disinterested now that the transaction was complete. Sandy had half expected him to forget the and the completeness of these half dozen streets and their doll-like houses.

Standing on a vantage point of high ground, Sandy searched for landmarks, and was almost glad that he could find none, hence would have no unpleasant memories of this quaint town. Then, far to the left of him, on the peak of the cliff, he saw a mighty palm tree that fairly hid a tiny white house in the shade of its queer ballet skirts. Beyond a doubt this was the place he sought. He walked up and down in front of the retiring cottage, having a growing conviction that no practical joker could live within its kindly walls. A little white-haired lady was snipping the organdy-fluted flowers, and she alone was guarantee enough that the people who lived there were beyond heartless joking.

"No one here to fight with and that's that," he breathed in relief. He moved his perspiring brow for while his anger had cooled his body had not. He looked enviously down at the curving stretch of beach below where blue-green waves were crashing on a sandy shore. With a hasty glance around, he started to break a trail down the hillside, toward the seclusion of the beach. Not a soul was in sight, and he slipped behind some rocks to strip for a swim. Emerging in two seconds, he plunged into the picturesque waves to test their reality. A reassuring cool shower slid over his warm body, and he struck out a powerful crawl.

"Damn it, come here!" and the extremely annoyed tones of a girl's voice reached Sandy, shortly followed by a mass of white fur, splashing water, and the excited yipping of a dog.

"Hi, pup! How's things?" Sandy greeted this unexpected intruder, then added, "Haven't you strayed a bit from your girl friend's apron strings?"

"There's no apron on this string. The foolish thing is broken. See?" And a slim girl in a scant white suit waved the ridiculous inadequate strap of red leather which once restrained the exuberance of the wire-haired terrier.

"Bring me my pup, will you, please?" she called.

Sandy grinned as he saw her standing on the shore so ineffectually—but not ineffectively he thought, as he noted the adorable slowness of her and the way the sunshine brightened her short curly hair. He started to swim toward the shore, then as his feet touched bottom he realized his total lack of clothing.

"Oh, oh! I nearly forgot!" he stammered, shamefacedly. "You'd better leave, miss. You see, I thought I was alone and I am—practically devoid of superficial covering and—" tent Kingfish had the veteran Senate leaders completely cowed by his threats to go into their States and defeat them.

Irked by some White House slight, Huey waged a one-man filibuster against an Administration bill. The Senate was completely tied up and the leaders were talking of coming to terms with Huey when Schweilenbach took command. Forcing Long to continue on his feet some 14 hours he broke the filibuster and drove him from the floor.

Minton, tall, dark and good-looking, is 47 years old. He served as a Captain of infantry overseas and is one of the best speakers and rough-and-tumble debaters in the Senate. He was the Administration's choice to reply to Senator Burt Wheeler's speech assailing the court measure. When Minton rose to go after him, Wheeler left the chamber.

Minton came to the Senate in 1934 after defeating "Little Artie" Robinson. Republican incumbent with Presidential ambitions. Had he been re-elected, Robinson was all set to seek the G. O. P. nomination in 1936. Minton cut short these aspirations by getting a big vote.

Lake Builders
The Tennessee Valley Authority has become so adept in the matter of building dams and creating artificial lakes that, as if in response to a summer whim, it has thrown in an extra lake for good measure.

Nobody hears about Big Ridge Lake. It is not on the engineers' drawings for power development or flood control. It is just something that TVA did for the fun of it, like the miniature lake that cook makes for Sonny with left-over dough.

Maybe it was left-over "dough" that built Big Ridge Lake, but the of treatment.

Diet and Health

OUTDOOR EXERCISE, SUNSHINE BENEFICIAL
These summer days should be of great benefit to the individual who is neither sick nor well—the generally under par person. He or she has a hard time in the winter—indoor life, short days of little sunshine, overheated houses, colds—all take their toll.

Now you can throw physic to the dogs and open the doors and windows, and what is still better, leave the house entirely.

In different countries the treatment of disease is conditioned by national customs, and to a certain extent by natural resources. In France and Italy, as summer comes on, the people flock to the watering resorts with which those countries are so richly endowed—to take the waters or to bathe in the medicated springs. Even more, they congregate at the seaside, nowhere very far away, and where, in that climate, the sea is warm and enticing.

In the Scandinavian and German countries good health is coupled inevitably with exercise in the open air—with gymnastic clubs, walking clubs, bicycling clubs, turnvereins, mountain climbing, tours on foot through the forests and hills. And for those who are under par, especially those with arthritis or chronic rheumatism, this is combined with massage and applications of heat and light.

Too Much Physic
In America we have been in the past perhaps too inclined to depend on drugs for treatment. That is why I say throw physic to the dogs. Take a leaf from our neighbors and depend on physical means.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

TRADE MARK REGISTERED

WASHINGTON — The State Department is not shouting it from the housetops, but a new era of diplomatic cooperation with the British Empire has begun.

The initiative in this came from the British, and was inspired by Britain's new Prime Minister, Neville Chamberlain. At a meeting of Dominion Prime Ministers at the recent Imperial Conference, Chamberlain spoke almost with emotion in his voice of relations with the U. S. A.

He said that any alignment between the Dominions and the mother country was inconceivable without the United States. They were discussing the prospects of war in Europe and Asia.

The meeting was confidential, but friendly Dominion representatives arriving in the United States later relayed the information to Secretary Hull.

Aside from this, the State Department has concrete evidence that Chamberlain's theories have been put into practice. During Baldwin's regime, U. S. officials never knew exactly what British policy was. The Foreign Office seemed always in a fog.

Now they say British policy seems more definite, while the Foreign Office never has been more cooperative. However, Chamberlain has been careful not to let his Foreign Minister, Captain Anthony Eden, a very nice but nebulous young man, handle U. S. relations. The Prime Minister handles them himself.

Note—Some State Department officials feel that the British have launched a campaign to win over the United States, now that war threatens in Europe, and that Hull and Roosevelt will have to be super-careful not to get sucked in by British diplomacy.

Illness
Eighty-two-year-old Andrew W. Mellon, who was Secretary of the Treasury longer than any other man in history, has been seriously ill for some weeks with a cardiac condition. He has been confined to his Washington apartment, where he is attended by a day and night nurse. His illness has remained a very carefully guarded secret.

Ann S. Prall, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, probably will not be able to return to his work, due to a severe illness which has resulted in partial paralysis.

Two Young Leaders
Out of the confusion that struck the Capital with the sudden death of Senator Joe Robinson, two figures emerged as strong men. A great deal is going to be heard of them in the future.

They are Senator Sherman Minton of Indiana and Senator Lewis Schweilenbach of Washington.

Both are young first-termers and ardent New Deal supporters, also hard bitters and enthusiastic scrapers. When other administrationites, struck with consternation of Robinson's death, advised shelving the Court bill, Minton and Schweilenbach clamored for a fight to the finish.

Their unyielding attitude made a tremendous impression on the President, and in his councils of war he brushed aside older party chieftains and turned to the two freshmen.

Born in Wisconsin 43 years ago, Schweilenbach, tall and bespectacled, is now displaying the same mettle as on a previous occasion. This was during the rampaging of the late Huey Long, when the ebull-

FINICKY APPETITES OFTEN ONE RESULT OF CONSTIPATION

When nothing tastes right, and you don't eat as you should, the trouble may be common constipation. Poor appetite is one of its symptoms. Others are headaches, listlessness and sallow complexion.

Constipation is usually due to "low-bulk" meals. Serve your family Kellogg's ALL-BRAN—a generous source of "bulk."

Within the body, this food absorbs twice its weight in water, and gently exercises and sponges out the system. How much better than taking pills and drugs!

ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B to tone up the intestines, and iron for the blood. Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient.

Three times daily, in severe cases. Serve as a cereal with milk or cream, or cook into appetizing muffins, breads, etc.

Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

in a barn on his father's country estate.

Morning newspapers published special editions which were sold out immediately to the crowds that swarmed around the news stands.

"This is not only a loss to Italy but all the world, a loss for science and for all humanity. With him disappears one of the sovereign geniuses who, because of the glory of their effort, are sufficient unto themselves."

Wireless a Reality
The world shrugged a skeptical shoulder and smiled tolerantly in 1895 when Guglielmo Marconi announced laconically:

"I have discovered how to telegraph without wires."

Yet within a decade ocean liners were keeping in touch with each other and with shore by means of "Marconigrams" and hundreds of lives had been saved by prompt response to the old distress signal of "PDQ."

And just as the Bell telephone followed the Morse telegraph, so wireless transmission of the human voice within a few years became a reality.

As an aid to navigation of both the sea and air, as a method of keeping explorers at the ends of the earth in touch with civilization and as a way of transmitting appeals for aid when angry elements have wiped out material methods of communication with stricken communities, the Marconi invention has become one of the great boons of civilization.

Marconi, like Morse with the electric telegraph, turned laboratory discoveries of secluded scientists into practical use. The actual discovery of radio, from a purely scientific standpoint, goes back half a century before Marconi.

"Hertzian waves" were the immediate forerunners of the wireless transmission of code signals. They were named for Heinrich R. Hertz, a German physicist who, by experiments between 1885 and 1889 was the first to prove that electrical waves would radiate from any system from which electrical oscillation was produced.

Hertz thus gave life to a theory advanced by James C. Maxwell (1831-1879), a famous British physicist, who developed to a remarkable degree ideas evolved by Lord Kelvin. The latter, in 1853, had proved that discharge from a condenser is oscillatory, a theory evolved in 1842 by Joseph Henry, a professor of Princeton university.

Anxious Son Be Musician

If the father of Marconi had had his way, the problem of applying these laboratory cogitations and discoveries to commercial purposes would have been left to some one else, and in Marconi the world would have had instead a probably mediocre and unsung musician.

The father insisted that his son study music. Apparatus in the home attic which the youth had designed and made himself aroused the parental ire and he frequently threatened to pitch it all out the window, especially when the son produced anything but a success as a music student.

But like many another budding genius, young Marconi had a source of inspiration and practical help in

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else, etc.

his mother. Born Annie Jameson, of an Irish family, she had gone to Italy against the wishes of her parents to marry Giuseppe Marconi, a banker. She granted her son's wish to study physics and enrolled him with Prof. Vincenzo Rosa. She also helped him set up a workshop at the family villa in Pontecchio.

Many of the friends of the family looked askance at these activities, considering Guglielmo a visionary and a wastrel of good hours. But the celebrated Prof. Righi of Bologna became interested in him and gave him much sound advice and many valuable suggestions.

There was another who had faith, a carpenter who helped in the experiments and who said:

"Signorino, I recommend myself to you when you have conquered fame and fortune."

Conquered the Ether

In the spring of 1895 the Marconi wireless system was born. The youthful inventor—he was only 21—had found that two rods placed upright in the earth at a determined distance from each other would radiate electric impulses in accord with the laws governing the Hertzian waves.

He had established his transmitter near the window of the barn. The receiver was several hundred feet away and out of sight.

Giuseppe Vornelli, the carpenter assistant, was at the receiving end armed with a rifle. If he saw a magnetic arm vibrate he was to fire the gun.

Marconi pressed the telegraph key thrice, sending three dots, the letter "S" of the Morse code. A second later he heard the shot and knew that wireless telegraphy had been started on its way to practicability.

Italy was so skeptical of the usefulness of the discovery that Signora Marconi took her son to England. There, with the aid of her relatives, he was granted the first patent for a practical system of wireless telegraphy, this being in 1896 when he was 22 years old.

Marconi's first wireless communication in England was between Penarth and Weston. Three years later he spanned the channel, establishing contact between England and France. Thereafter the British and Italian admiralities and the principal shipping companies adopted his system.

In 1901 messages were sent between Cornwall and St. Catherine's Isle of Wight, a distance of 183 miles. A few months later Marconi bridged the Atlantic, receiving signals transmitted 2,100 miles from Poldhu, Cornwall, to St. John's Newfoundland. That transmission, like the first one from the barn to the carpenter, consisted of the three dots of the letter "S."

Though the world doubted at the start, it became vocal with praise when this feat was accomplished. Honors were showered upon him by scientific bodies and governments and newspaper columns on both sides of the Atlantic lauded the inventor.

Proves a Life Saver

The sea continued to be the chief field of wireless development. The first ocean daily newspaper was published on the steamship Campania in 1904, a novelty which later became a regular equipment of all liners.

Life saving and salvage of millions of tons of cargoes became of frequent occurrence as distressed vessels summoned aid from sister craft. The first great example of this came on January 22, 1909, when the steamer Republic was sunk in collision with the Italian liner Florida off Nantucket in a fog. Only six lives were lost and several hundred others were saved because Jack Binns, the wireless operator, stuck to his key, sending out "PDQ" and giving the position of the stricken vessel.

It was soon after this event that "SOS" was substituted for the earlier call because it was easier to send its three dots, three dashes and three dots than to transmit the more complicated "PDQ" letters of the international code.

In 1913 the Titanic sank. More than a thousand survivors were landed in New York. They learned that Marconi was in the city, marched in a body to his hotel, cheered him and cried:

"We owe our lives to you."

Marconi was born in Bologna, Italy, April 25, 1874. He spent his youth in Bologna, Leghorn and Pisa, studying in the schools of those cities and also in the University of Bologna.

He married first Beatrice O'Brien, sister of Lord Inchiquin, at St. George's church, London, in 1905. They had a son and two daughters. His wife obtained a divorce in 1924, taking advantage of the laws of the city of Fiume before it was annexed to Italy, where divorce is not permitted.

She had been a lady-in-waiting to the queen but after her re-marriage to Marquis Liborio Marignoli resigned her court post. The shadow of this union was removed later when Marconi obtained an annulment of the first marriage from the Vatican.

This permitted him to re-marry and he took for his second wife in 1926 the Countess Cristina Bezzis-Scala.

The inventor lost his right eye as a result of an automobile accident in September, 1912.

In the world war he won international honors as a diplomat and was one of the signers of the Italian peace treaties with Austria and Bulgaria. After the war he sold his home in Rome, purchased a yacht, renamed it "Electra" and spent much of his later years on board the vessel, continuing his experiments.

He capped these in 1923 by perfecting long distance "beam wireless" by which radio signals are confined to one direction much in the manner that light is shot from a searchlight.

By it fog-bound ships may be kept off rocky shores and lonely aviators guided across trackless seas. It has also made short wave, long distance transmission more certain for both telegraph and telephone.

In March, 1930, Marconi was again in the public eye by transmission from his yacht in the port of Genoa, Italy, of an electric impulse which closed a circuit and lighted lamps in Sydney, Australia, to open an exposition there. At the same time he and others talked from the yacht's cabin with officials of Australia.

SLAYING RECALLS THE KILLING OF VIVIAN GORDON

Find Body of Attractive
Young Woman on Speedway Roadside

By The Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 20.—The body of an attractive young woman, identified by a nun as Irma Louise Pradier, 35, shot three times near the heart, was found today sprawled alongside the roadway of the Harlem river speedway, apparently the victim of an underworld ride.

The Catholic nun said she had known her through religious work. Police were unable to learn immediately, however, where she lived or worked, or to discover any motive for the slaying.

Police, pursuing a murder theory, awaited an autopsy on the bodies of a young couple dead in their Queens apartment under strange circumstances.

The speedway victim's clothes were rumpled and dust covered and from their appearance the police concluded she probably had been tossed from a car.

The woman wore a leather wind breaker, a purple blouse and blue skirt of rayon or silk, tan stockings and blue oxfords. She was about 30 years old.

Detectives recalled the killing of Vivian Gordon, six and a half years ago. Miss Gordon, strangled to death, was thrown from a car in

9 Wives—9 Years

George Roediger, "Marrying Butcher" of Winnipeg, Canada, is pictured just before he started off to serve nine years in a Canadian prison for bigamy. Police say he married nine women in eleven years. He was deported from New York to Winnipeg after serving two years in the U. S. on bigamy charges.

Van Cortlandt park after a life of dubious underworld connections. Van Cortlandt park is about four miles from the Harlem speedway.

The Vivian Gordon murder climaxed a period when gang rides as a means of eliminating competitors in the field of bootlegging, the policy game and the various rackets which flourished so mightily in prohibition days, had become fairly common.

Vivian, garrotted and dumped in the park on February 26, 1931, was a playgirl in the bright lights. She kept many little black books, inscribed with the names of clients, and with numerous sinister notations expressing her fear of gang-land vengeance.

Crime Never Solved
Police ran down some 600-odd leads, but in the end the crime was set down as unsolved.

In recent weeks there appears to have been a revival of the ride as a means to an unpleasant end. Last week two ride victims were found in Brooklyn.

Before today's crime, the most recent case of the killing of a woman took place about two weeks ago in a cheap little hotel on the lower east side. She was strangled with a silk stocking.

The couple, George Chinery, 28, and his wife, Ella, 25, apparently had been dead for several days.

Chinery lay in a pool of blood in the bathroom. The body of his wife, clad only in underwear, was in an adjoining bedroom. Her body, said Police Captain James Smith, was covered "from head to foot" with bruises.

Neighbors told police they had heard nothing to indicate an attack.

Police, mystified by the exact cause of death, investigated the possibility the couple had been poisoned. They abandoned a theory Chinery and his wife might have been slain by robbers after detectives found a man's leather wallet containing $65, and a woman's purse with $13.33.

ESTIMATE 200,000 IN BITTER BATTLE OVER MADRID

Outcome at Navalagamella
May Foretell Outcome
In Spanish Strife

By The Associated Press.
LONDON, July 20.—Italian refusal to discuss the withdrawal of foreign troops from Spain was understood today to have caused a breakdown in non-intervention negotiations.

MADRID, July 20.—An estimated 200,000 men, about equally divided between insurgent and government armies, were locked today in the sixth day of the "battle for Madrid."

Government aircraft dumped heavy cargoes of explosives at Navalagamella, on the front west of Madrid, to shatter lines of supply for thousands of seasoned reinforcements called to the front by Insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco.

Navalagamella was the pivotal point in the battle that may foretell the outcome of the civil war. There, insurgent infantry attacks were being flung against the western flank of the government salient.

The objective apparently was to cut off the Madrid forces which have carved out a 100-mile square pocket of insurgent territory from the rear.

A parallel attack on the eastern side pressed government troops from Villa Del Castillo toward Villanueva Del Pardillo, in some sectors in virtual hand-to-hand fighting.

Repeated Air Battles
There were repeated air battles, air attacks on opposing lines by both sides and tank charges. Trench and artillery warfare, an incessant deafening duel, was of world war intensity.

Insurgent advances at Hendaye, on the Franco-Spanish frontier, said Gen. Franco's forces had altered the battle lines. Government communiques said Gen. Jose Miaja's forces were holding their positions.

Twenty persons were killed and more than 100 injured in an insurgent bombardment of Tarragona and Chambriles. Barcelona dispatches reported. Many buildings were destroyed, they said, in a night air raid on the towns near Barcelona.

Insurgent communiques reported fresh victories on the Aragon front in northeast Spain; government communiques on the northern front at Oviedo said the same thing.

A sub-committee of the European "hands off Spain" powers approved in principle a plan to substitute observers in Spanish ports for the international naval patrol from which Germany and Italy have withdrawn.

TWO NEGROES TAKEN FROM JAIL AND SHOT

By The Associated Press.
TALLAHASSEE, Fla., July 20.—Two young Negroes accused of stabbing a Tallahassee policeman, were taken from the county jail—located two blocks from the state capitol—early today and shot to death by a group of masked men. Placards, one of them saying "warning, this is what will happen to all Negroes that harm white people," were found at the scene of the lynching, three miles from the capitol and within sight of the heavily-traveled Tallahassee-Jacksonville highway.

Police said both Negroes had confessed, each accusing the other of the actual stabbing. The policeman is in a serious condition.

Two weeks ago the National guard, summoned by Governor Fred P. Cone, protected an Apalachicola Negro, Robert Hinds, from feared mob violence as he stood trial.

"MARINE FOLLIES"

MARXES Madder Than EVER IN NEW LAUGH HIT

The mad, merry Marx Brothers bring their latest lunatickling comedy, "A Day at the Races," to the Liberty screen today for a three day run, after an entire year was spent in preparation of its madcap plot, hilarious gags and side-splitting situations.

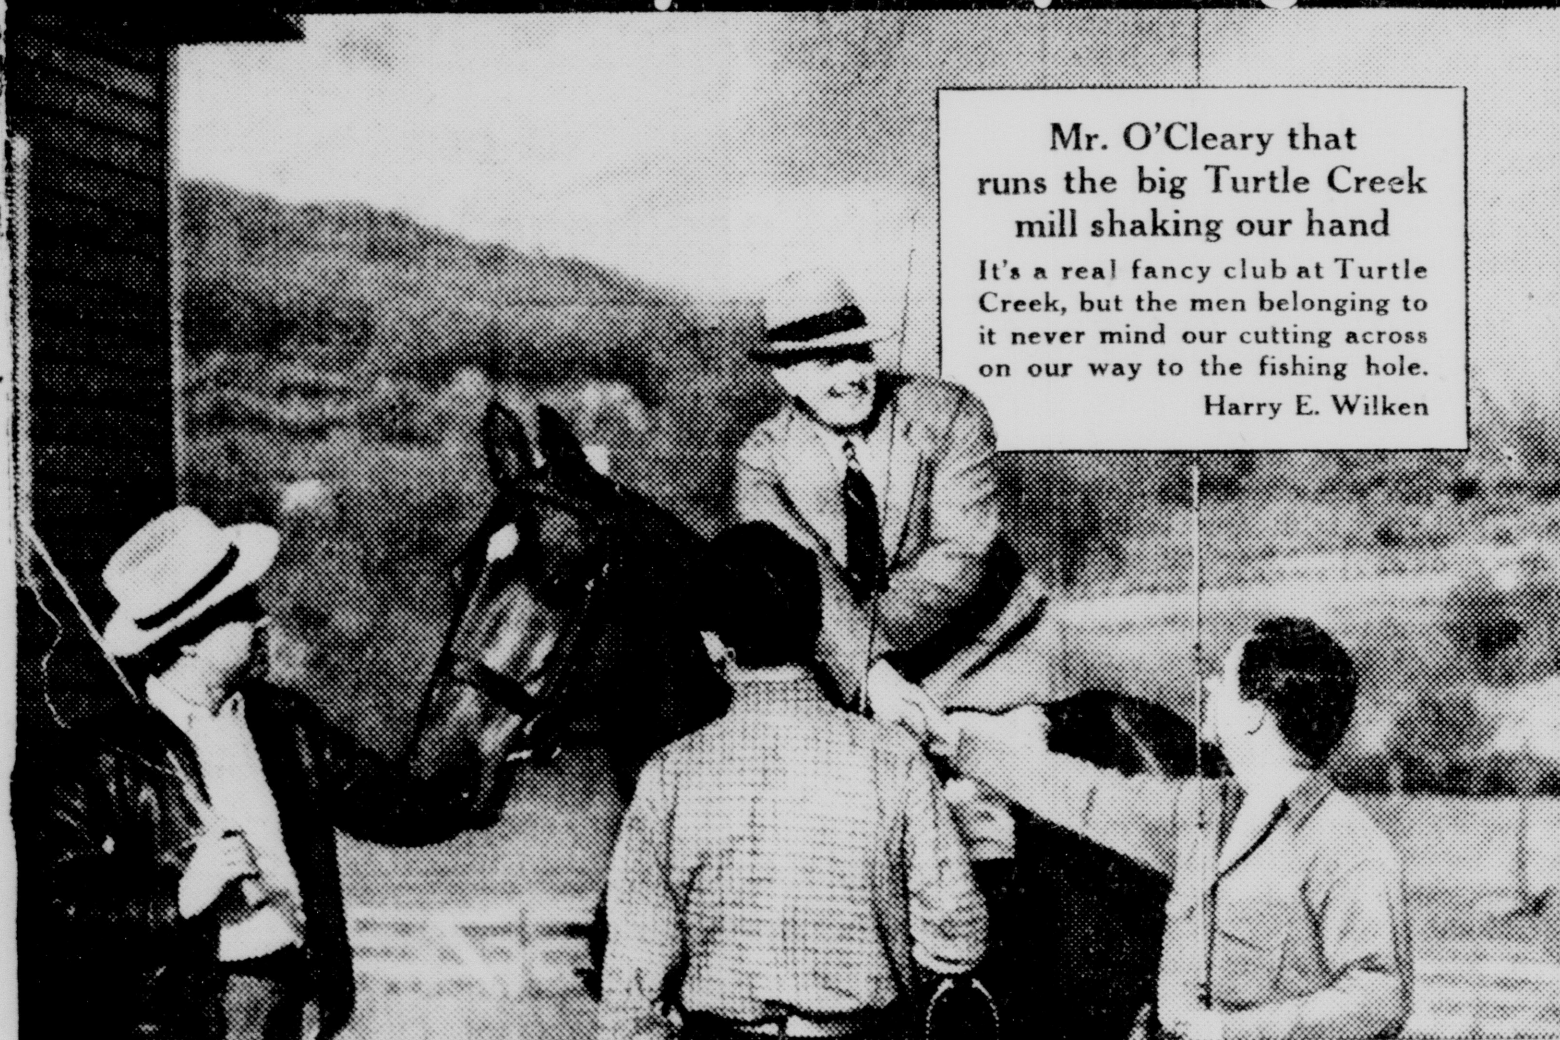

Appearing in support of Groucho, Harpo and Chico in the new laugh-extravaganza are Maureen O'Sullivan and Allan Jones in the romantic leads, and Margaret Dumont, Esther Muir and others adding to the chorles. The picture was directed by Sam Wood, who scored with the previous Marx Brothers hit, "A Night at the Opera."

The comedy stars and their staff of writers worked for five months preparing the original script for "A Day at the Races." This script was made into a stage presentation and was tried out in five cities before the company returned to place the finished product before the cameras.

You can't hardly set your foot inside of a store but what you hear folks asking for Our Family's Whiskey, and commenting on how mild and tasty it is. But here's a funny thing. Some way or another I never saw the real tony folks asking for it up until only just lately. Tom says they couldn't help but of heard how this is the personal recipe of our Family and how we've been a family of distillers since way back in the early days. But Tom says maybe they had their mind set on paying a lot for their whiskey, and Our Family's Whiskey didn't cost them enough. Well anyway, they've caught on now—and I say the more the merrier!

STRIKE VOTE BY RAILWAY CRAFTS

Eight union crafts at the Missouri Pacific shops are among the fourteen crafts in the United States, now taking a strike vote, which union leaders say is just a matter of time in order to have information to present the mediation board in Washington, which is considering a request for an increase in wages and adjusted working conditions.

The unions are asking for an increase in pay, a guarantee of time for a normal force, a guarantee of time also for the "standby force," that is those who are called in for extra work.

It is understood that the leaders have asked for an increase of twenty cents per hour and have been offered two cents per hour. In order to know the feeling of the men in the shops over the country with reference to a strike, if a satisfactory agreement is not reached, the strike vote is being taken.

The eight crafts in the Sedalia shops are: Sheet metal workers, electricians, boilermakers, machinists, blacksmiths, carmen, laborers and clerks. Not all of them have met and voted.

The transportation unions, conductors, brakemen, engineers and firemen have already indicated their stand by a vote.

SHOULD TURN EGGS WHILE INCUBATING

Poultry Expert Cites Four Fundamental Factors.

By Dr. W. C. Thompson, Poultry Husbandman, New Jersey Experiment Station—WNU Service.

Temperature, ventilation, moisture and change of position are the four fundamental factors in obtaining good hatches in incubators.

Changing the position of the embryos during the three weeks of development within the shell is very important. Mother hens, incubating their setting of eggs on the old-fashioned nest, usually move the eggs beneath them at least twice during the day, thus tending to equalize the exposure of each egg to the conditions of temperature, fresh air and moisture, all of which must be uniformly applied to each egg.

In the operation of the modern incubator, man can well copy this rule of the hen. Experimental evidence seems to indicate that he can go the hen one better by doubling the number of turnings during each 24-hour period.

If hatching eggs are changed in position once every six hours, optimum results, other things being equal, will generally result. It is partly a matter of preventing the sticking of the developing embryo to some one position within the shell, and partly a matter of equalizing the exposure of the respective eggs to the conditions which will bring about normal, natural embryonic growth.

Most modern incubators are provided with devices for turning eggs. It is important to be regular and consistent in this practice. It is one of those many small items which, taken collectively, spell successful hatching and chick production.

Warm Soil Is Necessary to Grow the Sweet Corn

With jaded winter appetites hungering for such spring dishes as roastin' ears, home and commercial vegetable gardeners are advised that no definite date can be given for the safe planting of sweet corn, since the seed will not germinate or grow until the soil is fairly warm, according to B. L. Weaver, of the department of horticulture, University of Illinois, college of agriculture.

Planting a number of varieties which vary as to time of maturity is a recommended method of obtaining a succession of roasting ears throughout the season. A good succession of white corn may be had by planting Howling Mob, Early Evergreen, Stowell's Evergreen, Narrow Grain Evergreen or Country Gentleman at the same time. A succession of yellow varieties may be obtained by using Purdue Bantam, Golden Bantam, (Bancross), Golden Cross Bantam and Yellow or Golden Evergreen.

Yield and uniformity are much greater where hybrid seed is used. Hybrids, because of their vigor and possibly because of some inherent resistance, may be less susceptible to bacterial wilt than open-pollinated types.

MOVE FOR PRIMARY TO CHOOSE SENATOR

By The Associated Press. LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 20.—Demands for a party primary to nominate a successor to the late Joseph T. Robinson won organized backing today from a group of professional and business men. A committee, headed by Former State Senator Arthur Johnson of Star City, opened headquarters for the "we want a primary" movement in the same downtown hotel where the state Democratic committee will meet Friday to decide how the party's senate candidate shall be chosen. The committee holds power either to select a nominee itself or to order a primary. If a primary is called it is expected to postpone until mid-fall the general election, now tentatively set for Sept. 14. Before the committee meets, definite decision may be reached by Gov. Carl E. Bailey on the question of whether an interim appointment to Robinson's seat will be made. The Want Ad columns of The Democrat are the get-together place of Sedalia people.

SEDALIA ELKS ARRIVE HOME

Henry C. Salveter, exalted ruler of Sedalia Lodge 125, B. P. O. Elks, left and Hugo Spurn, member of the local lodge, shown with antlers of a six year old elk killed by Mr. Spurn's brother-in-law, F. G. Weisenborn of Denver, a noted hunter of local lodge. The two Sedalia Elks reported the convention one of the best to be held in many years, being attended by more than 25,000 Elks from over the United States. They reached home late Saturday night.

Mr. Salveter and Mr. Spurn accompanied by Mrs. Salveter attended the national convention of Elks held in Denver last week. Mr. Salveter being a delegate from the center of the street, talking of personal affairs, and not on the sidewalk. Suddenly we were terrified by a Japanese war cry from the sentries who rose up behind sandbag barricades. At least three sentries, besides the two first visible, charged us, giving Carol a terrific shove.

"Carol burst into tears, then the sentry kicked her in the side. Meanwhile, another sentry held me fast with the flat of his bayonet.

"In the midst of the confusion, I saw a machine gun mounted on a barricade staring me in the face. They made a loud clamor shoving us around although, of course, we couldn't understand Japanese.

"Finally they let us go, shoving us off roughly and giving me a final and very forceful kick from behind. We went toward the Wagonist (hotel) and contacted the U. S. embassy guard and made an official report.

"The front of the Japanese embassy was well lighted and it was impossible that they couldn't see we were women."

N. Y. A. Shop Is One Of Best Equipped in U. S.

Sixty-Five Take Part in Work; Furniture Distributed in State

The cabinet shop of the National Youth Administration in Sedalia now employing sixty-five boys and girls is one of the six in the United States completely equipped with power machinery it was disclosed Monday night by John Whaley, supervisor of the project. The shop is housed in the old Y. M. C. A. building.

The project is designed to train boys in wood working. The shop contains eight pieces of power machinery in addition to an adequate number of hand tools. In spite of the number of pieces of machinery which cannot be enclosed by guards there has been only one accident.

There are at the present time about fifty boys engaged in making toys and furniture. All were untrained in this line of work before they entered the project. Fifteen girls are also employed to paint the toys before distribution.

From the shop here toys and office furniture is sent over the state to public offices. The only cost to those desiring the furniture is the material used.

Thus far the project has given away about two thousand toys in Sedalia. Approximately five hundred still remain to be distributed in this district. Thirty-five chairs and twenty cots were made for the Melita Day Nursery. In addition to those made for Sedalia government offices, desks have been sent to St. Joseph and Joplin. One of the shop's exhibits in the state fair will be a desk made here.

The most ambitious piece of office furniture that has been made in the shop is a filing cabinet for the state highway department in Jefferson City. Made to contain maps, it consists of twenty-four drawers each of which is five feet wide and four feet high.

Besides the work done in the shop the boys have been employed in the parks of the city and have manufactured track equipment for the local high school.

A general clean-up is being held in Liberty Park. Later the boys will resurface the tennis courts there. Almost three dozen picnic benches made by the shop workers will be placed in the park this summer.

At Hubbard Park, where the largest program is planned, a new tennis court will be built. The road through the park will be resurfaced with white crushed rock. Drainage ditches are being dug to drain the entire south end of the park and the ball diamond. On the diamond a new score board is to be erected. If possible the park ground will be relandscaped and leveled off so that mowing machines may be used.

AMERICANS GAIN RIGHT TO PLAY FOR DAVIS CUP

Budge Whips Von Cramm In Deciding Match of Inter-Zone Finals

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 20.—(AP)—In one of the most dramatic matches in Davis cup history, Don Budge, the California red-head, spotted Baron Gottfried von Cramm two sets and then beat him today 6-5, 5-7, 6-4, 6-2, 8-6 in the fifth and deciding match of the interzone finals between the United States and Germany.

Budge's victory sent the United States into the challenge round against Great Britain.

Budge, heavily favored over von Cramm whom he beat in straight sets in the all-England finals recently, found the titled Teuton at the height of his game and had to play the tennis of his life to emerge with the victory.

Victorious over the Germans, three matches to two, the American team will face Great Britain in the challenge round starting Saturday. The Americans will be heavy favorites, for the British will be without the services of Fred Perry, now a professional, and George Patrick Hughes, who is ill.

The Americans thus are confronted with their best chance in years of regaining the coveted international trophy lost to the French at Germantown, Pa., in 1927.

Budge's triumph over the graceful, handsome von Cramm came after Heinrich Henkel, second string Teuton singles player, had crushed Bryan M. (Bitty) Grant, tiny Atlanta 7-5, 2-6, 6-3, 6-4, in the first of the closing day's matches and brought Germany up on even terms with the Americans at two victories all.

Aside from a temporary let-down in the second set, Henkel kept the tiny Grant pretty well under control to bring the series count to two victories each.

It was Grant's second successive defeat of the series. He bowed to Von Cramm, 6-3, 6-4, 6-2, in the opening match Saturday. Henkel split even in his two singles engagements, bowing to Budge, 6-2, 6-1, 6-3, on Saturday. The Americans' second point came yesterday when Budge and Gene Mako whipped von Cramm and Henkel in the doubles, 4-6, 7-5, 8-6, 6-4.

Grant Deplores His Showing

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 20.—(AP)—Bryan (Bitty) Grant, heart-broken in the midst of his teammates' jubilation over Don Budge's magnificent victory, declared he was through with Davis cup competition and wouldn't play against Great Britain even if chosen.

"I turned yellow," he said bitterly, "and almost lost the cup for us. A guy who hasn't any more guts than I have ought to quit for good."

All efforts to console him were fruitless.

"Think how I feel quitting like that and then watching Don fight his heart out to win," Grant said. "I shook like a leaf all through my match with Henkel."

DRAFT FOR ARMY TWENTY YEARS AGO

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Twenty years ago today the United States began drafting soldiers for the world war.

On June 5, 1917, the nation had started registration of the 24,234,021 eligible for military service.

July 20, 1917, in room 226 in the senate office building, the first numbers were drawn. Secretary of War Newton D. Baker opened the ceremony. From a glass bowl he drew out number 258 and the thousands of registrants who held that number became the first men called for service under the draft.

Senator George E. Chamberlain of Oregon, chairman of the senate military affairs committee; Representative S. Hubert Dent, Jr., of Alabama, chairman of the house military affairs committee; Senator Francis E. Warren of Wyoming; Representative Julius Kahn of California; and General Tasker H. Bliss, Enoch H. Crowder and Henry P. McCain drew the next numbers in order. The drawing, which started at 9:30 a. m., continued until 2:16 o'clock the next morning, 16 hours and 46 minutes.

To make the selections a single set of numbers was prepared beginning at 1 and including the highest registration numbers reached in the largest local board area. In printed numbers were inclosed gelatin capsules, placed in a large glass bowl and drawn by unfolded persons.

The total armed forces of the United States up to November 11, 1918, consisted of 4,791,172 men, of which 2,810,296—2 out of every 3—the army—were selected for service by the draft.

of the pursuit ship he was flying over the Madrid front.

But he told the story like this: "It was a very silly move to come here for anything like this. I realize now—particularly when the only interest was money."

"I am not a Communist and never was but I had no job and I heard I could get plenty of money for flying in Spain. I thought I was coming here as instructor."

Dahl came to Spain with two other Americans also hired on a month-to-month basis and arrived at Madrid June 24. He said he had signed up in Mexico.

He flew only twice for the Madrid forces—July 10 and 12.

"I took off about 5:30 in the afternoon (of July 12) with a flight of about 45 pursuit planes protecting about 25 bombers. We were over Boadilla (apparently Boadilla del Monte, a few miles west of Madrid) when the air above was suddenly full of nationalist (insurgent) fighters."

"Two planes near me came down in flames and another fluttered down and spun out of control. Before I knew what hit me, a plane above had riddled my ship so completely that the fabric flew off the wings."

"I was flying alone in a biplane of Russian make similar to the American Curtiss C-12. I was up about 5,000 feet. I bailed out with my parachute and landed in an orchard on the front. I did not know where I was. I just sat and waited and a squad of soldiers came and got me."

"They took me to Navalcarnero, then here."

Dahl called the aerial warfare "the bitterest fighting imaginable" and said the government's air force was almost entirely made up of Russian airmen.

PLAN DEFENSE FOR REV. C. E. NEWTON

By The Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, July 20.—Daniel T. Johnston, an attorney for the Rev. C. E. Newton, said today a $25,000 defense fund is being raised by friends and relatives to fight a charge against the former Paris, Mo., pastor of slaying Mrs. Dennis Kelly.

PITTSFIELD, Ill., July 20.—With a grand jury scheduled to meet Friday to consider first degree murder charges against the Rev. C. E. Newton, accused in the death of Mrs. Dennis Kelly, his former parishioner at Paris, Mo., plans for his defense went forward today.

The pastor and former mayor of Kahoka, Mo., has accepted the services of two Kansas City attorneys—Daniel T. Johnston and M. S. Turner—but no announcement of the nature of the defense has been made.

Newton will be held without bail until the grand jury, summoned by Circuit Judge A. Clay Williams, makes its report, State's Attorney Merrill H. Johnston said.

The pastor has been in jail here since early last Wednesday, a few hours after the battered body of his "devoted friend" was taken from the Mississippi river near Louisiana, Mo.

In an 11-page statement, Newton was quoted by the state's attorney as saying he threw Mrs. Kelly's body into the river after striking her on the head with a hammer during a quarrel which occurred while assisting her to flee from her home in Paris.

Await Grand Jury Action

KANSAS CITY, July 20.—Daniel T. Johnston, defense counsel, said today that formulation of a defense for Rev. C. E. Newton would be held up until a grand jury acts Friday on a murder charge against the Paris, Mo., pastor.

PROPOSAL FOR NEW GENERAL FARM BILL

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Chairman Jones (D. Texas), of the house agriculture committee proposed today a new general farm bill embracing the "ever-normal" granary and crop production control features.

The bill would use the present soil conservation benefit payments and penalty processing taxes as machinery to effect crop control.

It would give the secretary of agriculture authority to establish a marketing quota for all producers of such products as corn, wheat, cotton, tobacco and rice. Farmers who sold more than their quota would be denied soil conservation benefit payments, which last year totaled approximately $400,000,000.

When the granary threatened to overflow, the secretary would have authority to establish processing taxes on the products of which there was an oversupply.

The tax would be as follows: Cotton, two cents a pound; wheat, ten cents a bushel; rice, ten cents a bushel, and 25 cents a hundred pounds on hogs when there was an oversupply of hogs.

Showdown On Court Reform Issue Delayed

The administration spokesman said that public opposition to the court bill voiced yesterday by Governor Herbert H. Lehman of New York was not particularly surprising to the administration but that timing of the publication of his letter to Senator Wagner (D. N. Y.), was "deadly" aimed.

He said frankly, however, that the administration had not expected him to make his views public.

Discussing the possibility of a new compromise the administration spokesman said President Roosevelt's court program embraced five separate phases and on only one, that calling for appointment of additional justices to the supreme court, was there substantial opposition.

Asked if President Roosevelt would be satisfied with acceptance by congress of four-fifths of his court program on which it was said to be in general agreement, without action on the supreme court phase, the administration leader said: "I don't think we've reached that bridge."

Asked for his comment on a suggestion put forward by some senators that the present court bill be modified to exempt present justices of the supreme court, this source recalled President Roosevelt's letter to Senator Barkley last week and observed that this proposal would be "just another method."

In his letter Mr. Roosevelt said the task of the executive was to state objectives and that of congress to work out methods.

At the capitol Barkley said leaders on both sides had agreed to postpone resumption of the fight in the senate until Thursday.

Wheeler and the other opponents refused to discuss reasons for their change in strategy. They only hinted that some of their number wanted to discuss the bill further before a showdown vote.

The Montanan said "we've got the votes any time we want to move to recommit."

In accordance with the agreement announced by Barkley as acting majority leader, the senate adjourned without transacting any business.

Barkley told his colleagues there would be no more business until Thursday when the president's veto of the bill to continue low interest rates on certain farm loans will be considered. Barkley said he could not say what the procedure would be after that.

However, Vice President Garner, back in the presiding officer's seat after several weeks of vacation, ruled Senator Copeland (D-NY) would be entitled to the floor at 2 p. m., Thursday. Copeland was speaking against the court bill when the senate recessed prior to the death of Robinson.

The court controversy came up at the start of a routine house session today when Representative Dunn (D-Pa.) appealed to members to sign his petition to force the president's original court bill from the judiciary committee to the floor. The house judiciary committee has taken no action on the bill.

Chairman Jones (D-Tex.) of the house agriculture committee introduced a new general farm bill embracing the "ever-normal" granary and crop production control features.

The bill would use the present soil conservation benefit payments and penalty processing taxes as machinery to effect crop control.

ADMINISTRATOR OF WPA DISTRICT QUILTS

By The Associated Press.

HANNIBAL, Mo., July 20.—Henry Riedel, administrator of district No. 1 of the works progress administration in Missouri, announced today he had resigned because business interests here made it impossible for him to move to Moberly, which under the recent reorganization had been made the headquarters for 44 northern counties.

Riedel, formerly a county judge here, was director of the W. P. A.'s Hannibal district under the old act-up. He had said he did not know who would be appointed to succeed him.

GENEROUS RAIN IS WORTH THOUSANDS

The rain which fell generously in Sedalia and throughout the county Sunday night was worth thousands of dollars to the farmers, according to reports from all parts of the county. While in Sedalia the precipitation was only .55 there was much more rainfall in some other sections.

It came at a time when it was needed for the corn, pastures, clover fields and other crops, but particularly did it help the large acreage of corn which needed it so badly, just at this time.

Contrary to reports that the corn borer, which has proved so harmful in Iowa and other states, is in Pettis county, E. B. Winner, county agent, states it is not. He said there may be a lesser corn borer, but in his travels over the county has found no evidence of the real corn borer. He states there are, in some districts, the root worm, or in others the ear worm, which damages corn considerably, but nowhere has he found, nor heard of, the corn borer.

FATALLY BEATEN WITH A HAMMER

By The Associated Press.

SEILING, Okla., July 20.—Clyde Van Fleet was dead today from a hammer beating inflicted by a man Sheriff C. A. Lovett said Van Fleet publicly declared had ordered him to kill 29 years ago.

The 60-year-old farmer died late yesterday from hemorrhage of the brain, a few minutes after he was beaten by Frank Fuqua, 55, in a fight witnessed by several spectators, Sheriff Lovett said.

Fuqua surrendered to the Sheriff immediately after learning Van Fleet was dead. He was released to the custody of neighbors.

Lovett said Fuqua and Van Fleet first clashed in 1908, after Van Fleet announced he had experienced a vision in which God instructed him to kill Fuqua.

When he went to Fuqua's farm to carry out his divine "instructions," Fuqua knocked him down with a single tree and turned him over to officers. Van Fleet was committed to the Western State hospital at Supply and later released.

Lovett said the two men met late yesterday when Fuqua drove to a machine shop to have some farm machinery repaired. The fatal fight followed.

ing" had passed unanswered.

Efforts to find a peace formula settling the dispute which began with a clash at the Marco Polo bridge July 7 thus far have failed.

A Domei report at Shanghai said families of Japanese diplomats to the Chinese central government were preparing to leave Nanking for Shanghai Friday.

The Japanese army in China had warned commanders of the Chinese 29th army, which has been fighting in the Peiping-Tientsin area, it would "take independent action" if the Chinese failed to cease firing and withdraw.

Response To Open Fire

The Chinese response, Japanese said, was to open fire on Japanese positions near Wangpinghsien.

Despite the resumption of hostilities, British sources in Tientsin reported officers of the 29th army had agreed to apologize for "attacking" the Japanese July 7, punish officers held responsible, pay compensation to Japan and declare the autonomy of Hopeh and Chahar provinces.

Chinese have charged the fighting is being used by the Japanese as an excuse for achieving the last condition in order to broaden their sphere of influence in Hopeh province.

Wang Chung-Hui, Chinese foreign minister, was reported by Japanese sources at Nanking to have reiterated his government's position that "the only terms acceptable to China" were simultaneous withdrawal of both nations' forces to the positions they held before July 7.

The Chinese central government has refused to sanction a settlement between Japanese and local Chahar authorities. Thus, Chinese sources said, a meeting between Wang and Shinroku Hidak, Japanese charge d'affaires, was "without result."

SERVICE STATION OPERATOR SLAIN

By The Associated Press.

TARKIO, Mo., July 20.—Gus Admire, 24, night operator of a filling station at the intersection of highways Nos. 4 and 59 here, was found shot to death early today.

The body, lying inside the station, was found by Blaine Elliott of Marshall, Ill., and Hollis Young of Kansas City who went to the station for gasoline. The killer apparently had fired through the screen door with a small gauge shotgun. The charge struck Admire in the throat.

An inquest was ordered.

Admire was secretly married here July 4 to Pauline Rusher, 19, of Marceline, Mo., who was working in a private home here. She went to her home in Marceline two weeks ago because of illness and has not returned.

After hearing testimony of four witnesses, Dr. G. A. Reutter, Atchison county coroner, adjourned the inquest until 10 a. m. Friday. T. J. Poage, state highway patrolman, is assisting the investigation.

BRISK VOTING IN RECALL ELECTION

By The Associated Press.

JOPLIN, Mo., July 20.—Voting started off briskly but quietly today as Joplin voters went to the polls to decide whether to recall Mayor Arthur C. Maher, under fire since last spring when he was indicted by a county grand jury on a charge of negligence in office.

It was estimated that 2,000 votes had been cast at 2 o'clock this afternoon, which, on a basis of past elections would indicate a total vote of 4,500 to 5,000.

The vote was reported close with the recall proposal said to be leading in five precincts and lagging in six, with the removal proposal having a slight lead. No figures were available in the other ten precincts of the city but workers said it appeared that the vote stood about the same in those districts.

BOOSTER-ROSENTHAL GAME TONIGHT MAY END SOFTBALL RACE

The championship of the National Division of the City Softball League will be at stake tonight when the Missouri Pacific Boosters and the Rosenthal Clothiers clash at Liberty Park.

A victory in the game, scheduled for 8 o'clock, would enable the Boosters to take the undisputed championship, but a loss would give the Rosenthals a tie, necessitating a playoff. In the event of a Booster defeat the Wards also could share in the tie by winning over the Sno-Flakes.

The Boosters nosed out the Rosenthals, 4 to 3, in their first meeting while the Wards walloped the Sno-Flakes, 16 to 1.

Tonight's schedule which rounds out the first half of play follows:
6:50 o'clock—Adco vs. Dixie.
8:00 o'clock—Boosters vs. Rosenthals.
9:10 o'clock—Wards vs. Sno-Flakes.

JIMMY DYKES, SCRAPPY WHITE SOX MANAGER, STILL SHOWING YOUNGSTERS A TRICK OR TWO

CHICAGO, July 20.—(AP)—He's the dean of all American League infielders and "Old Pegleg" to his mates, yet Jimmy Dykes, in his 20th major league season, still is showing the youngsters a trick or two.

The retund little Chicago White Sox manager, who'll be 49 years old next November 10, isn't breaking into as many box scores as he used to. But when he does, as happened yesterday, fans and players alike realize the great job he is doing in keeping his club well up in the first division.

Handicapped by a sore leg all

THE SPORTS ROUNDUP

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, July 20.—(AP)—Van Lingle Mungo, fireball ace of the Brooklyn Dodgers, fears his pitching days are over. His mighty right arm is almost numb from elbow to shoulder. Best doctors in New York are X-raying and diagnosing. Mungo was battered from the box in less than an inning by the Cubs Sunday. New York Evening Post says Mike Jacobs and Jimmy Johnston, both tops in fight promoting, will announce a partnership soon. Which is pace win news—if it's so. From London comes word Don Budge will jump to the pros the minute the United States wins the Davis cup.

No. 1 Giant rooster is Jack White, owner of "Club 18," a night spot. Jack has a big score board hanging on the wall of his joint. When the Jints win you can find the results in box car figures. When they lose, the sign reads: "No game today." It will be reunion in California when Indiana and Southern California play basketball in Los Angeles next winter. The entire Indiana squad will be home bred while eight of California's first ten players will be Hoosiers. Add tags to riches: Harold Litman, who used to hustle peanuts at Ebbets Field, has just signed a contract for his Parkway football team of the American Association to use the Dodger field this season when the Brooklyn football Dodgers are playing abroad.

That youngster doing the batting practice catching for the Boston Bees is the son of Ziggy Sears, National League umpire. Tommy Parr, Marcel Thil, et al arrive on the Bees today. Tommy is quoted as being "convinced" he will ship Joe, president of Madison Square Garden, flew to Los Angeles to sign up Sonja Henie, the skate queen—also a few fighters.

Hope Bob Feller doesn't feel hurt, but the Yankees (who should know) rate him no better than sixth as a speed merchant. They place Van Mungo, Tommy Bridges of the Tigers and others above Feller. The untimely death of George Gerstwin at 38 has a lot of Broadway characters, including several nationally known fight managers, putting on the slow motion. Joe Medwick of the Cardinals says National League pitchers soon would put a crimp in Joe Dimaggio's style. Charles "Trusty" Tallman, West Virginia University football coach, has resigned to become head of the state police. It's "Colonel" Tallman now and you'd better salute, too.

Big Bill Tilden may take a group of tennis pros on a barnstorming tour of India. Lou Fette, 30-year-old "rookie" pitcher of the Boston Bees, is the toast of the National League. Bill Terry, who was reported as favoring Gabby Hartnett as his successor as field captain of the Giants, may shift to Chuck Dressen of the Reds who is ace high with the Giants front office. Well, there isn't a smarter little rooster in the majors than Dressen.

Jerome (Big Toe) Dean Hastens to Boston to Rejoin Cardinal Mates

NEW YORK, July 20.—(AP)—It must be extremely cheering news to Manager Frankie Frisch that Jerome (Big Toe) Dean is hastening to Boston to rejoin his fellow St. Louis Cardinals and help put them back on the right, or pennant-winning, track.

For the Dizzy one, if he sticks to his precedents of doing the unexpected, wouldn't surprise anyone by using his sore big toe as the spring-board to a new winning streak. Dean hasn't pitched a game since the all-star game in Washington, when he stuck his foot in the way of a line drive and wound up limping to the sidelines.

Pilot Frisch, sorely pressed for pitching talent, has missed the Dean right arm no end. But, if he hasn't missed it even more, it's due to a recent discovery by the whip-cracker of the Gashouse Gang.

The discovery goes by the name of Silas Kenneth Johnson, and has been for some twenty-eight years. On the Cards' current road trip, the discovery has won four games, his latest at 3-2 defeat of the Giants yesterday, while the Redbirds have lost three.

Johnson, who up to then had appeared in sixteen games for a record of one win and three lost, went in against the Pirates in the seventh inning last Monday and came out a winner. He started against the Phils in the opener of a double-header on Friday, went the route to win again, and came back in the ninth frame of the night-cap to win his third in a row.

Yesterday he topped it all off by turning back the Giants on six hits, to save Cards from a shut-out in the four-game series and drop the Terry-men to a full game behind the Cubs, who blanked the Brooklyn Dodgers, 9-0.

the hope that the doctors will be the source of his troubles. Van Lingle Mungo, Brooklyn Dodge pitching ace, has started a course medical examinations.

Mungo's trouble started when developed a lame back after pitching seven innings of hitless against the Giants on July 4.

"I got a kink in my shoulder, that," said Mungo. "I believe it, because I was favoring my back."

Mungo suffered his fourth setback Sunday when he knocked him out of the box in first inning.

HOW THESE SEDALIA MEN CAN ROLL "MAKIN'S" SMOKES!

Leave it to them to get the fast-rolling brand that's also mild and tasty

THERE ARE MORE good roll-your-owners in this town than you can shake a stick at. They roll 'em fast, firm, and handsome. But they don't take all the credit for themselves. They praise Prince Albert's "crimp cut" for easy, neat rolling. Lays right—doesn't spill out. Draws right. And that P. A. "no-bite" process routs harshness—lets the rich taste come through. (P. A. means new joy in pipes too!)

JUST THE IDEA of a Prince Albert "makin's" cigarette gets Harold Steed (above) feelin' good. He's frank to say: "I'm thankful for Prince Albert. It's got what I want in a 'makin's' tobacco—real body and taste with mellow mildness."

Grover Adams (extreme right) checks: "For fifteen years," says he, "P. A. has given me real smoking joy—rich taste without 'bite'!"
